As a dual disciple of art and multimedia, I strive to find a balance between traditional mythology and modern technology. Through integration of symbols, strange creatures and illustrations, I have created a form of cyber-alchemy that touches on the forces of nature, fantasy and the art of storytelling. I work primarily in polymer clay on various hard surfaces such as canvasboard, wood and book, as well as acrylic on canvas, acrylic on acrylic sheet, with experience in printmaking, sculpture and jewelry-making. My aim is to create precious objects that enhance the beauty of everyday surroundings as well as capture an idea or a look. My work is bold in colour and expresses delight and wonder through the richness of my materials and the charm of my illustrative style.

My education was completed at McMaster University in Combined Honours Fine Art and Multimedia and I am well versed in painting, life drawing, bronze casting, wire sculpture, polymer clay, silicon clay, etching, lithography, transfer printing, paper lithography, cyanotype, woodcuts, paper sculpture, acrylic, watercolour and ink illustrations. My multimedia training includes Adobe Photoshop, Adobe Illustrator, Macromedia Freehand, Flash, CorelDRAW, Director, Adobe Premiere, Fireworks, Dreamweaver, OpenCanvas, Painter, as well as HTML and CSS.
